University of Edinburgh Business School

Through our challenging executive courses, research projects and consultancy services, we're working alongside a host of businesses and organisations. Our flexible School is the place for faculty-taught masterclasses, modules and tailored programmes. We're connecting with industry to make big strides in the way people work, learn and develop their careers. The results? Meaningful, measurable engagement. More knowledgeable and empowered people. Stronger sectors. All from compelling collaborations and incisive business education. Together we can strengthen your team. Now and for the future.
